BE MORE THAN A NUMBER

AIRLINE PILOT

FIT YOUR OWN PATH...

As an international pilot, Cassie flies a huge mile every day, just knowing the maximum speed for entering the landing gear is to calculating the amount of fuel required for the flight. There is a lot to think with a lot of numbers.

It's wonderful being able to help my young boy (5) and all the opportunities and adventures it presents. Working with maths makes all the difference to my career path.

It's OK if you don't know what you want to do yet! Start broad by investigating different careers and industries, making sure you give yourself lots of options. From there you'll be able to navigate the best way forward.
