BE MORE THAN A NUMBER

AIRLINE PILOT

FLY YOUR OWN PATH...

As an international pilot, maths plays a huge role every day. From knowing the maximum speed for lowering the landing gear to calculating the amount of fuel required for the flight, I have to work with a lot of numbers.

It's wonderful being able to truly say I love my job and all the opportunities and adventures it presents. Sticking with maths made all the difference to my career path.

It's OK if you don't know what you want to do yet! Start broad by investigating different careers and industries, making sure you give yourself lots of options. From there you'll be able to navigate the best way forward!
