ROBOTICIST

AS A CHILD, I WONDERED ABOUT ROBOTS...

Not if they were going to take over the world, but rather they could help us instead. My company recently launched its first robot called 'Teleport', a telepresence robot which takes you where you want to go, instantly. Imagine if a student sick in hospital could go to school remotely, or if an art lover could visit a museum on the other side of the world.

Maths is crucial to everything we do. From safety or reliability to the overall engineering of a product. Sometimes reaching a milestone makes you realise you're just at the beginning of an even bigger adventure.
