BE MORE THAN A NUMBER

RISK ANALYST

I WANTED TO BE MANY THINGS...

An artist, a tennis player, a lawyer, a graphic designer and an architect. To be honest I never really knew what I wanted to do. That's why I love working with startups – I get to do a bit of everything.

From planning and forecasting, to analytics and operations, risk management and insurance, and everything in between, I'm the go-to numbers person.

When a company is in its early stages, making sure the numbers add up can mean the difference between success or failure.
