I am more than
number

It's not exactly a natural progression to go from studying a maths degree to a highly technical program, but Letters and Numbers has given me the amazing opportunity to share the wonderful world of maths with the wider community.

People often have a perception of what a mathematician should be. I like to challenge that stereotype.

My name is

Lily
Serna

and that's why I CHOOSE MATHS because it's MORE THAN JUST NUMBERS. It's a way of teaching the brain to break down problems in a systematic and logical way.
